

Headteacher Comment

As we approach the end of the spring term, I wanted to say again a huge big thank you to parents who have supported their child/children at home, during the national lockdown.

Our staff always prefer to work directly with the children in the classroom, rather than online, but in the circumstances, I feel everyone did a fantastic job.

It is so pleasing to see so many enthusiastic faces arriving at school each morning, and even those who are having doubts sometimes in the morning before coming in, are fine once they have settled into their classroom.

Now we are approaching the Easter holidays, our teachers are going to be emphasising to the children that the next 2 weeks are a holiday and that we are not entering another lockdown! Please remember we have our last Professional Development Day of this academic year on Monday 12th April, so the school will be closed to children.

Parents' Evening

You will notice from the dates below, that 2 provisional Parents' Evening dates are listed. The teachers will be assessing the children either side of the Easter break, to see where the gaps are in their learning, which is why we have selected early May dates for the appointments.

It is highly unlikely that these appointments will be in person, but over Microsoft Teams or Zoom instead. Further details will follow in due course.

Stars of the Week

The Stars of the Week last Friday were:

Comic Relief

We raised a fantastic £94.50. Thank you for your kind donations (if you forgot to donate, please hand this in by the end of the week) and your jokes for the joke book.
